

Sorghum Day's Original Success Story...

A Happy End To This Donkey Tale

A HAPPY ENDING to Jake and Jessie came about after the Sorghum days sale in Wewoka Saturday. Both were destined to the glue factory when purchased by Homer Ong. Ong bought the two just for the Saturday celebration. But a man from Purcell saw the two working the sorghum mill and purchased Jake and Jessie. Now both will be enjoying life in the heart of Oklahoma, Purcell. (Times Staff Photo by Rod Payne)
